Activity Description in Nutshell:

The first day of Dhruva 2023 began on March 28 with an art exhibition where paintings and other works of art were displayed. A contest was held to highlight the students' artistic abilities. The main attraction of Day 1 was the traditional day, which included performances like Granth Dindi, lezim, and some spiritual songs. All faculty members and students dressed traditionally for this function. A singing competition, Dwani followed it. The performers showcased a variety of songs, from classical to soul music. For many performances, supported music was played by students. Dr. Ankita Dhone, Prof. Mahesh Waghmare, and Mr. Satishchandra Hatagale were the competition judges. The other activities conducted on Day-1 were Treasure Hunt, Bluff master, Spree of coding, Gaming event, Flash mob. Two days were dedicated to the Treasure Hunt, which included two rounds. A Spree of Coding is a two-day programming competition featuring various elimination rounds. Our FE, SE, TE, and BE students from the three branches of CE, IT, and E&TC joined together for a flash mob performance at the I2IT Parking Premises. The cultural event "Band Wars" that concluded Day 1's evening included performances by our college bands, with MH-43 BAND giving the final performance.

Day 2 began with additional interesting events like "hunger games," "Nirman Ideation hackathon," and "Quiz." The Dhruva evening began with "Ajaa Nachale," in which students performed their dance steps in solo, duet, and group modes back-to-back. This was followed by a "fashion show," in which teachers performed the Ramp walk, which was then advanced to the next level with students. Our beloved President, Aruna Katara mam, also participated in this event. After the fashion show, a DJ was set up, and everyone—students, staff, and guests—enjoyed the music and atmosphere. We finished our meal, and this concludes DHRUVA 2023, yearly techno-cultural festival.
