Activity Description in Nutshell:

The Granth dindi cultural event held at I2IT Hinjawadi College on January 19, 2024, aimed to showcase the diverse cultures of various states across India. The event, organized by the college, commenced at 9:00 am and concluded by 11:00 am, attracting a diverse audience comprising college students, faculty members, and non-teaching staff.

The event commenced with the indication the granths-dindi procession by the principal of I2IT Hinjawadi College, followed by enthusiastic participation from college faculty and students. And with the ceremonial announcement of Ram Krushna Hari, the procession embarked on its journey through the cultural landscape of India.

In the southern part of India, the festival of Pongal was celebrated with fervor, accompanied by traditional dances such as Bharatnatyam and lathi-Kathi, performed by the students, showcasing the rich heritage of the region.

As the procession ventured into Bengal, students enthralled the audience with the vibrant and traditional dance form of Durga Puja. The journey continued to Punjab, where the energetic beats of Bhangra reverberated, complemented by the soulful recitation of Ardas, capturing the essence of Punjabi culture.

Gujarat witnessed a spectacular performance of Garba dance by the college faculty, highlighting the vibrant and colorful traditions of the state. Maharashtra, known for its rich cultural heritage, showcased the grandeur of Shivgarjana accompanied by the rhythmic beats of dhol-tasha, followed by the melodious rendition of Rakhumai song and Jogava, captivating the audience.

Activity Description in Nutshell: Treasure Rush was a Technical-Physical-Mental Hunt for the Treasure Hidden in the College Campus Area. It was conducted on the span of 2 days inclusive of 2 rounds. Round 1 was scheduled on the first day and Round 2 on the following day.

Round 1, titled 'Rush Me There', served as an elimination and selection phase for the top 16 participants. In this round, participants teamed up in pairs. Each team was handed a sheet containing the names of 23 places or objects encoded in a special format to add a layer of challenge. The encoding was designed to be not easily deciphered.

The task for each team was to physically visit the specified location or find the designated object, capture a photograph with it, and then submit the collected images within a 90-minute timeframe. The submissions were handed over to the coordinator.

Based on the scores, the top 8 teams were selected to advance to Round 2

Round 2 had the Technical aspect of the game and this was the final round to win the Treasure. In this round the 16 qualified participants were, divided into 4 teams each consisting of 4 members. The selection of the winner was divided into two levels.

1st Level: This level is where the teams had to perform solo. That means there were 4 tasks that had to be completed by each team and the top 3 teams that complete the tasks the earliest moves to the 2nd level. The 4 tasks were:

- Code: Debug and complete the given code, compile and run it.
- Cryptography: Decipher the text or numbers into an answer.
- Find It: Complete the given task to find and bring the object.
- Physical: Perform 3 physical tasks.

2nd Level: The 3 teams completing the previous round had given a password to a protected PDF file. This PDF file consisted of a hidden clue to a location in the campus. This location had a QR code stuck to it, which had the co-ordinates to the Final Location. The team to reach that locations wins the treasure.

Round 2 marked the technical climax of the game and served as the final challenge to claim the treasure. The 16 qualified participants were grouped into 4 teams, each comprising 4 members. The selection of the ultimate winner was structured into two levels.

1st Level: Each team had to undertake solo tasks. There were 4 tasks in total, and the top 3 teams completing these tasks in the shortest time advanced to the next level. The 4 tasks were:

- Code: Debug and complete the given code, compile and run it.
- Cryptography: Decipher the text or numbers into an answer.
- Find It: Complete the given task to find and bring the object.
- Physical: Perform 3 physical tasks.

2nd Level: The three teams that successfully completed the first level were provided with a password to access a protected PDF file. Within this file lay a concealed clue pointing to a location somewhere on the campus. At this hidden spot, a QR code was affixed, containing the coordinates to the Final Location. The team that reached this final destination first emerged as the triumphant treasure winner.

- Challenges: Rapidly evolving gaming trends, intense competition, continuous innovation.

Round 2: Executive Power-Play.

In Round 2: Executive Role Play of CXO's TABLE, participants take on the roles of top executives in a company - CEO, CTO, CMO, or CFO. Each role represents a key aspect of corporate leadership:

1. CEO (Chief Executive Officer):

- Responsibility: Making high-level strategic decisions for the company.
- Task: Navigate through the scenario where decisive leadership is crucial. This could involve crisis management, public relations, or major strategic choices corresponding to the given scenario.

2. CTO (Chief Technology Officer):

- Responsibility: Overseeing the technological aspects of the company.
- Task: Address the scenario related to technology, innovation, or cybersecurity. Propose solutions that align with the company's goals corresponding to the given scenario.

3. CMO (Chief Marketing Officer):

- Responsibility: Handling the company's marketing and branding strategies.
- Task: Tackle a marketing-related challenge. This might involve dealing with a PR crisis, rebranding efforts, or adjusting marketing strategies based on market feedback corresponding to the given scenario.

4. CFO (Chief Financial Officer):

- Responsibility: Managing the company's finances and ensuring financial stability.
- Task: Confront a financial challenge. This could include handling a financial downturn, presenting financial strategies to investors, or addressing concerns about the company's financial health corresponding to the given scenario.

How it Works:

- Each team is assigned one of these executive roles.
- Teams face realistic scenarios corresponding to their roles.
- Participants need to make decisions and take actions as if they were in that executive role.
- Scenarios may involve challenges, crises, or opportunities that executives commonly face in the corporate world.
- The goal is to showcase effective decision-making, leadership, and problem-solving skills specific to their assigned executive role.

Final Round: Money Moves Showdown.

Round 3: Final Product Showdown and Debate of CXO's TABLE, the competition reaches its pinnacle as only two teams remain, battling head-to-head for the ultimate victory.

Product Showdown:

1. Task: The two remaining teams are tasked with crafting an innovative business idea. This can be a groundbreaking product, service, or strategy that effectively addresses a current market need.
2. Presentation: Each team presents their unique business idea to a panel of judges, emphasizing its originality, market relevance, and potential impact.
3. Judging Criteria: Judges assess the teams based on the innovation, creativity, feasibility, and viability of their proposed business idea.
4. Point Breakdown: Points are awarded for the uniqueness of the concept, its alignment with market demands, and the practicality of implementation.

Debate:

1. Task: Following the presentations, the two teams engage in an intense debate. This involves defending their respective concepts, responding to questions from the judges, and possibly engaging in direct exchanges with the opposing team.
2. Judging Criteria: Teams are evaluated on their ability to articulate their ideas, respond adeptly to challenges, and persuasively communicate the strengths of their proposed business concept.
3. Point Breakdown: Points are allocated based on the quality of the debate, clarity in communication, and the team's overall ability to defend their idea against the other.

How it Works:

- The two finalist teams prepare and present their groundbreaking business ideas.
- Judges evaluate the presentations with a keen eye on specific criteria.
- After the presentations, the climax ensues with a head-to-head debate between the two teams.

- Points are awarded for both the quality of the presented idea and the effectiveness of the debate

Activity Description in Nutshell: The "Dhruva 2K24 CID-Manhunt Scavenger Hunt" event unfolded with an immersive and thrilling atmosphere as participants embarked on a quest to unravel the mystery of corporate espionage within the college campus. The event aimed to engage students in a unique and exciting adventure, combining intellect, teamwork, and creativity.

Round 1 - Clue Distribution:

Participants were provided with the initial set of riddles encapsulated within chits. These riddles led them to various locations within the college campus, each representing a potential clue related to the suspect in the corporate espionage storyline. The participants showcased their deductive skills and teamwork as they deciphered the riddles to unveil the locations.

Round 2 - First Suspect:

Upon reaching the specified locations, participants encountered the first suspect who provided additional clues for the subsequent part of the scavenger hunt. This phase heightened the suspense and excitement as participants delved deeper into the storyline, connecting the dots to uncover the identity of the infiltrator.

Round 3 - Sequential Unveiling:

The event continued with a sequence of suspects, each revealing clues to the next in a chain reaction. This sequential unveiling added layers to the narrative, creating an engaging storyline that participants eagerly followed. The suspects, strategically placed at different locations, interacted with participants, maintaining the immersive nature of the scavenger hunt.

Round 4 - Final Confrontation:

The climax of the event culminated in the participants reaching the final suspect, the mastermind behind the corporate espionage plot. The atmosphere was charged with anticipation as participants eagerly awaited the revelation of the ultimate criminal. This phase showcased the participants' resilience, problem-solving abilities, and collaboration.

3. Dice Rolling: The team member designated as the dice roller will roll a standard six-sided dice to determine the number of spaces the human board piece moves.

4. Teams Playing Simultaneously: The event accommodates three teams playing simultaneously on the giant board. This adds an element of competition and strategy as teams try to outmaneuver each other.

Round 1 It was a competition of teams against one another. Draws were drawn for as to who will play against who and then the matches began.

Round 2 Round 2 added a twist where players could start playing only when their teammate rolled a 6.

Round 3 Round 3 was played between the top 3 teams and top 2 teams were awarded with the prize. The winners were team Piyush (BE entc) and team Shreya (TE Comp)

Venue: A307 (Academic Block)

Event Coordinators: Tejas Shinde, Mithilesh Deshmukh, ~~Pritesh Jadhav~~

Number of Participants: 8 Teams

Prizes and Recognition: Rs. 2000/- cash prize

Activity Description in Nutshell: IPL Auction was conducted in two rounds. First round was the quiz round, based on which teams were allowed to choose their preferred IPL team. Second round was the actual auction round, where teams bid for the player of their choice.

About the Event:

The IPL Auction is a thrilling event inspired by the renowned Indian Premier League, designed to test participants' cricketing knowledge, strategic thinking, and competitive spirit. This exciting simulation will have student teams representing real IPL franchises as they bid for virtual player contracts using a point system, mirroring the real IPL auction format. Get ready for an adrenaline-pumping experience packed with strategic bidding, friendly rivalry, and a celebration of all things cricket!

Instructions for Participant Teams:

- Team Formation: Register your team with event coordinator. Each team can have four students.
- Player Profiles: Review the provided profiles of available players, which include key statistics, skills, and estimated point values.
- Point System: Each team will receive 100 points to bid for players. Player costs will be deducted from your remaining points after each successful bid.
- Bidding Process: The auction will follow an Open bid format (all bids are visible to everyone participating in the auction). Participant teams need to choose their strategies wisely to acquire desired players within the budget.
- Communication: Participants need to be prepared to actively participate in the auction and communicate bids clearly. Respectful interaction with fellow teams is essential.

Rules of the College IPL Auction:

- Player Categories: Players will be categorized as [Batsmen, Bowlers, All-Rounders] with varying point values reflecting their skills and current form.
- Bidding Caps: To ensure all teams have a fair chance, individual spending caps and/or total auction spending limits may be implemented.
- Tiebreakers: In case of tie bids, a predetermined tiebreaker round will

Activity Description in Nutshell:

As the flagship event of I²IT's TECHNICAL AND CULTURAL FEST – DHRUVA, the "Fashion Show – a Catwalk Spectacle" was an unforgettable evening of style, creativity, and inspiration. The evening brought the limelight and witnessed the magic of fashion come alive on I²IT campus runway!

Theme: "Midnight Ball"

Activity Description: FASHION SHOW => Students joined us on a dazzling journey into the world of fashion at this year's college fest with our marquee event, "FASHION EXTRAVAGANZA – A MIDNIGHT BALL". This event was a spectacular fusion of style, culture, and creativity, offering a platform for students to showcase their flair for fashion and design, following the footsteps of its predecessors.

Event Highlights:

Theme Unveiling: The Theme was a complete mystery to the Audience (teachers and students alike). The theme reveal ribbon was cut by Co-Ordinator Annaya Patil, who through the opening formation, gracefully unveiled the Core Idea of the event.

Diverse Runway Categories: The runway hosted a myriad of categories, each inspired by different steps, formations or fashion movements. From male students in tuxedos and suits to young women students in gowns, combined with individual aesthetics, participants brought the theme to life with their unique interpretations, demonstrating a rich tapestry of styles.

Inclusive Model Casting: Embracing diversity is at the core of the fashion show. The event encouraged students from diverse backgrounds to participate as models, promoting inclusivity and redefining beauty standards on campus.

Networking Opportunities: The team connected with industry professionals, fellow fashion enthusiasts, and potential collaborators during the preparations and sponsorship drives. This provided a unique chance for students to expand their networks and gain valuable insights into the fashion industry.
