Activity Description in Nutshell:

On January 29, 2024, the NSS unit organized an eye check-up camp in Khamboli village. This initiative aimed to provide essential eye care services to the local community, ensuring they had access to necessary medical attention. The camp successfully served 150 villagers, who benefited from expert eye consultations and affordable solutions for their vision needs. The eye check-up camp featured experienced eye specialists who conducted comprehensive examinations. The villagers underwent various eye tests to assess their vision and identify any potential issues. After these examinations, the specialists provided appropriate glasses tailored to each individual's needs at a lower cost, making them affordable for the villagers.

The camp effectively provided essential eye care services to 150 villagers. The provision of affordable glasses ensured that financial constraints did not prevent proper vision correction. The efforts of the NSS unit and the participating eye care professionals had a positive impact on the eye health of the Khamboli community.

The eye check-up camp at Khamboli, organized by the NSS unit on January 29, 2024, was a significant step towards enhancing community health. By offering expert eye examinations and affordable glasses, the initiative addressed immediate eye care needs and emphasized the importance of accessible healthcare services. The success of this event highlights the value of continuing such health camps to benefit more communities in the future.
