Activity Description in Nutshell:

The primary objective of organizing a street play in Devale was to create awareness and engage the community on social issues such as hygiene, education, health, and community well-being. The National Service Scheme (NSS) volunteers aimed to convey important messages in an interactive and entertaining manner.

The students of National Service Yojana did a very good job of social awareness among the people of the village by dealing with social issues like elimination of superstitions, need for female education, politics, along with labor donation. A visit to the village was also conducted. Students prepared a street play “Majha Desh Harvala Aahe” revolving around themes such as female feticide, girl education, superstitions and corruption. They performed this play for lots of villagers who praised the students.

The street play organized by NSS volunteers in Devale proved to be a successful and impactful initiative. It not only entertained the community but also effectively conveyed important social messages. The engagement and positive response from the villagers showcase the potential of street plays as a tool for community awareness and positive change.
