

Behaviors change , Respect of Sanitation

Academic Year: 2018-19

Name of the Event: Behaviors Change, Respect of Sanitation

Date & Time of the Event: 25/09/2018

Venue: Premises of International Institute of Information Technology

Event Coordinator: Dr. Sandeep Varpe, NSS Programme Officer

Activity Description in Nutshell:

The event held on September 25th aimed to bring about behavior change and foster a greater sense of respect for sanitation practices. Commemorating Mahatma Gandhi's birthday, the day also marked the launch of the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan (Clean India Mission), emphasizing the importance of cleanliness and hygiene in our daily lives. On the auspicious day of 150th Gandhi Jayanti this event was conducted on 25/9/2018 in premises of International Institute of Information Technology as a part of NSS activity. The groups of students were prepared and gave them training about this activity. The group of students were visited to different stalls and encourage stall vendors to adopt cleaner and healthier hygiene practices. Information is provided specifically for stall vendors, addressing topics such as proper waste disposal, personal hygiene, and maintaining a clean workspace. Practical demonstrations were conducted to showcase effective ways of waste disposal and the importance of maintaining a clean and tidy stall. Vendors exhibited noticeable improvements in their hygiene practices, with cleaner stalls and a more organized approach to waste disposal.
